

Call for applications for participants to attend

Industrial Policy for Policy Makers

IPPM 2019

2nd to 6th September 2019

Sandton, South Africa

The third edition of the Industrial Policy for Policy Makers (IPPM) training programme will be taking place in September 2019, and will be held alongside the annual African Programme on Rethinking Development Economics (APORDE). This year's theme for IPPM is: CHALLENGES OF THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION FOR INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

The programme is a partnership between the United Nations Industrial Development Organization (UNIDO), APORDE, the South African Department of Trade and Industry, and Trade and Industrial Policy Strategies (TIPS). It is aimed at senior government officials from across SADC and will be held in Johannesburg (South Africa) from 2 to 6 September 2019.

There is no charge to attend the training, however due to limited places applicants will be accepted through an application process. South African participants will be required to cover their own transport and accommodation costs. Participants from other SADC countries will have their costs of travel and accommodation covered by the programme.

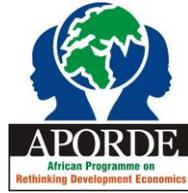

The five day intensive training course is focused on Industrial Policy and consists of lectures and seminars taught by leading international and African economists. It is of particular relevance given the recent adoption of the SADC Industrialisation Strategy and Action Plan. The programme consists of both daytime lectures and evening lectures. Participants are expected to attend all lectures.

Overview

IPPM will cover topics in development economics and industrial development with a focus on technological change and Industry 4.0. NOTE: Several lectures will be held jointly with the APORDE programme. The training will include sessions on:
